

Mountains of Ice

Magica

My breath in the cold
And the demon that`s waiting at the end of my road
Is breaking down my will and my reality.
While I scream inside my agony , insanity
My feet are numb , but I must face
This white fatality.
I`m alone but all i see
Is my reflection in the ice
And I smell death, blood, fear
A scream in the night i hear
For the streght of the gods I pray
To help me on my way.
The ice is shining on the lippery path under my feet
I nearly drown in all the snow that`s fallin from the peak.
I follow North my eyes go blurry, I hear the underworld
But I stay alive from the warmth of the elven sword.
