

Hold Back Your Love

Magnum

These long nights
As winter comes down
There's fog at the door
You're not around
There's silence
Day after day
The thought of it all
Slipping away

All my wildest dreams
If they had come true
I'd give them all to you
Now the darkest nights
Gather at my side
I'm still confused

And I said is it always the same?
Can you tell from the start?
Is there always this pain
When you're breaking apart?

She said
Can you hold back your love
Till you're certain it's right?
Can you hold back your love
For that one special night?
Hold back your love
Hold back your love

These long nights
As winter comes down
There's fog at the door
You're not around
There's silence
Day after day
The thought of it all
Slipping away

Is it always the same?
Can you tell from the start?
Is there always this pain
When you're breaking apart?

She said
Can you hold back your love
Till you're certain it's right?
Can you hold back your love
For that one special night?
Hold back your love
Hold back your love

Hold back your love
Baby, baby, don't rush me
Hold back your love
Listen to me
You know I told you once before
Hold back your love
