

Just This Side of Heaven

Magnum

She was a fragile girl
A prisoner in a golden cage
But she didn't time it right
She walked out in a blinding rage

She danced in the moonlight
She danced
Before it began
She danced
With no one beside her
She danced
She dreamed of that man
She danced

Just this side of heaven
Shame to be
Just this side of heaven
Get back to reality

Now she doesn't have a choice
She wonders as she goes insane
Says his hands are cold as ice
They come down like the pouring rain

The spell has been broken
She danced
The deed has been done
She danced
From words that were spoken
She danced
She's in need of someone
She danced

Just this side of heaven
Shame to be
Just this side of heaven
Get back to reality

Just this side of heaven
Shame to be
Just this side of heaven
Get back to reality

Just this side of heaven
Shame to be
Just this side of heaven
Get back to reality

Just this side of heaven
Shame to be
Just this side of heaven
Get back to reality
