

Let Somebody In

Magnum

When did you stop looking homeward
Deep in trouble, endlessly
Just like a ghost across the water
You disappeared quietly
Now everyday seems to long
And everything just goes wrong
So when do you start to live again
Oh what a way for this to end

You better let somebody in
No open door to anything
You better let somebody in
The times growing shorter
Let somebody in
You're gonna lose it all again
You better let somebody in
Before your blood turns to water

Now you get lost in your own time
Hide your secrets far away
Don't count the cost when you're falling
Don't have the answers so they say
When everyday brings you down
You're just a face in the crowd
Cause you don't try, you don't pretend
Oh what a way for this to end

You better let somebody in
No open door to anything
You better let somebody in
The times growing shorter
Let somebody in
You're gonna lose it all again
You better let somebody in
Before your blood turns to water

I thought that I really knew you
But that can't be right
And no one could ever find you
Lost in the night
You better let somebody in
No open door to anything
You better let somebody in
The times growing shorter
Let somebody in
You're gonna lose it all again
You better let somebody in
Before your blood turns to water
