

Body Love

Magnus Uggla

I'm gold to the touch,
I don't use love as a crush.
To tell you the truth,
I don't tell the truth very much.

It's you that I see,
I bet it's me you need.
So let's get out of this joint,
and get right to the point.
It's just bodylove,
it's just bodylove,
I can't get enough of your body's love.
It's just bodylove,
I won't be too rough.

I knew from start,
somebody broke your heart,
and you need to be loved,
before your soul's torn apart.

Don't go back to this place,
you'll just forget my face,
yes I'll give you your love,
the thin veneer of my love.

It's just bodylove,
it's just bodylove,
I can't get enough of your body's love.
It says bodylove,
I won't be too rough.

Don't say a word,
just walk through door.
Don't ever look back,
just stare at the floor.
I'll be in the shadows,
we'll hide in the night.

Just don't hesitate,
you had your last chance,
forget about tenderness,
love and romance.
I give you the things your body needs.
