Asteria

From the mountains near the river Floating wild into the sea All my hope I now deliver That your light shines over me

When the night is falling, guide me on my way

Asteria, Asteria Almighty goddess of the stars I'm calling you, Asteria You bring greatness to my heart The nightshade becomes golden When your spirit lights the dark

As I stare into the darkness My emotions rising high I am riding through the forest On my journey near the sky

When your stars are shining, I can never fail

Asteria, Asteria Almighty goddess of the stars I'm calling you, Asteria You bring greatness to my heart The nightshade becomes golden When your spirit lights the dark

All my life I fought for justice With your guidance on my side

Asteria, Asteria Almighty goddess of the stars I'm calling you, Asteria You bring greatness to my heart The nightshade becomes golden When your spirit lights the dark
