

Fight to Win

Major Accident

Up against the glass, one word to sign
Each line branded by conformity
Sign your name, don't sign away your pride
They're so blind that they will never see

They will never walk half as tall as us
They will never make us feel small
The faces in the glass that we'll never trust
We'll fight with our backs against the wall

Can't work away this tension in my head
Nothing can be done, can be said
Shut the door to another life
Keep on trying till you find the light

They say that dying's hard
But life is harder still
Have to fight for what you want
Have to fight for what you will
They say that death is strange
But life is stranger still
Have to fight for what you want
Gotta fight fight fight to win
