

Guess What???

Malika Ayane

Waking up too early
I realize I am still dreaming
All I see around me
Is moving slowly and breathing.

Guess what
I'm still surrounded by my thoughts?
Guess who
Can tell me where I'm going through?

I feel there is a secret holding me
For me to be discovered and believed.
I forget my passions they're liars
They want infect my hopes.

Don't live days, just fill them
Waiting for something to thrill me.
All I need are feelings
Something that keep on burning.

Guess what
I'm still surrounded by my thoughts?
Guess who
Can tell me where I'm going through?

I feel there is a secret holding me
For me to be discovered and believed.
I forget my passions they're liars
They change my point of view.

I'm fading over to reality
I made myself become the one
I needed to be.

Guess what
I'm still surrounded by my thoughts?
Guess who
Can tell me where I'm going through?

I feel there is a secret holding me
For me to be discovered and believed.
