And even if i were with you and evev if you were the moon and even when you felt the gloom you'll never leave my private room i'll never be nobody's fool i'll never be nobody's fool not even when i run on pride not even when the day goes blind not even when the starts collide i'll never be nobody's fool Don't be scared there's not a war never ever feeling low and even if i were with you and even if you were the moon i'll never be nobody's fool i'll never be nobody's fool
