

Piece Of My Heart

Mallory Knox

Oh she's running away again & where's she going this time?
Oh is the place that she lives not safe or to where the monster resides
Her shoes are broken from running
Her feet are blistered & tired
But the pain is nothing compared to the agony she's feeling inside

I always wanted to break you but you're a piece of my heart
I wanna return the pain but I never outlived a doubt
I always wanted to break you but you're a piece of my heart
I wanna return the pain but I never outlived a doubt

You're standing there in the corner
That tired look in your eyes
You're like a lamb to the slaughter & now you're running out of places to hide
To cover up all the scars you're biting down on your tongue
More than a million ways to bleed this out but you're running from the air in your lungs

I always wanted to break you (oh you'll never know)
But you're a piece of my heart (how much I love you so)
I wanna return the pain but (the words I never write)
I never outlived a doubt (will follow me where I go)
I always wanted to break you (oh you'll never know)
But you're a piece of my heart

Oh you cannot see my side with these hands blocking your eyes
Oh no you cannot see my side with these hands blocking your eyes
s
Oh you cannot see my side with these hands blocking your eyes
Oh no you cannot see my side with these hands blocking your eyes
s

I always wanted to break you (oh you'll never know)
But you're a piece of my heart (how much I love you so)
I wanna return the pain but (the words I never write)
I never outlived a doubt (will follow me where I go)
I always wanted to break you (oh you'll never know)
But you're a piece of my heart (how much I love you so)
I wanna return the pain but (the words I never write)
I never outlived a doubt (will follow me where I go)
