

Shout at the Moon

Mallory Knox

And these streets they are so cold,
I've been freezing here for days.
I've been lying for your company,
Like the Sun you've cast a-stray.

Well it's only in these bones,
There's no feeling in this face.
If you'll look into my eyes, my dear,
There's no hope for saving grace.

Is it lonely where you are tonight?
Is it lonely, for you?

So every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.
(I'm walking with a stranger chasing shadows in my room).

Well every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.
(I'm holding onto questions I don't know the answers to).

And now hold onto me,
If you love me;
Do you love me?
'Cause every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.

So we wander on our own,
Chasing night and seize the day.
There's no time for insecurity,
In the life you create.

So I thought you,
Wouldn't have me any other way.
But that didn't seem to be a reason,
You walked out.
Out of everything we had,
And now I find myself alone.

So every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.
(I'm walking with a stranger chasing shadows in my room).

Well every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.
(I'm holding onto questions I don't know the answers to).

And now hold onto me,

If you love me;
Do you love me?
'Cause every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.

So every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.

'Cause every night,
I'll hold onto you,
Hold onto you.

And now hold onto me,
If you love me;
Do you love me?

'Cause every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.
(Shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon).

'Cause every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.
(Shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon).

'Cause every night,
I'll shout at the Moon,
Shout at the Moon.
