

The Remedy

Mallory Knox

Can you feel it on the top of your lungs?
Can you feel it crawling under your skin?
And itching at the back of your throat waiting for our love to begin?

Temptation is a terrible thing when I'm trying to keep you out of my mouth Lying always made me give in
I'm filling all our hopes up with doubt

Tried to let the love in
Bottled up her breathing
Never had a chance to come home
I don't wanna stay here living deep in my fear
Watching all our bridges burn slow

You can always throw my bones in the river
You can cast my body to see
Or you can take your time undiscovered so they're never ever gonna find me

And I swear I didn't mean to break your heart my love
But these feelings went & dragged me down
I didn't mean to rip your heart apart
Oh the only way is down

The nights so long control is all gone
My vices are a curse
I'll carry on all said & done but they're only ever gonna get worse
I'm begging you your wisdom please
The remedy that I need will come when you will leave me be
You always were much better than me

Tried to let the love in
Bottled up her breathing
Never had a chance to come home
I don't wanna stay here living deep in my fear
Watching all our bridges burn slow

You can always throw my bones in the river
You can cast my body to see
Or you can take your time undiscovered so they're never ever gonna find me

And I swear I didn't mean to break your heart my love
But these feelings went & dragged me down
I didn't mean to rip your heart apart
Oh the only way is down

And I swear I didn't mean to break your heart my love
But these feelings went & dragged me down
I didn't mean to rip your heart apart
Oh the only way is down

You can always throw my bones in the river
You can cast my body to see
Or you can take your time undiscovered (take your time undiscovered)
So they're never ever gonna find me

And I swear I didn't mean to break your heart my love
but these feelings went & dragged me down

I didn't mean to rip your heart apart
Oh the only way is down
