God knows it's so hard to think about
And God knows it's old but it's true
God knows that time hasn't healed a thing
I'm living like I'm hung on a noose

God knows that I'm feeling terrible
I'm trapped inside of my skin
I've tried to change but I never will
I cannot kill the cynic within

Well I could try and run away
Maybe make a getaway to you
I never thought I'd feel this way
Everyday's a struggle without you

Set my heart on fire
Live my life on the wire
So you can pull me through
I held it all inside
I kinda wish I'd tried
To try to tell you the truth
'Cause I cannot remember

God knows that these days I'm miserable
And God knows that I feel used
God knows I miss all the chemicals
And feeling like I've nothing to lose

And no love can help take the pain away
I miss the smoke inside of my lungs
Tick tock the clock hasn't changed a thing
I'm living like a man on the run

Well I could try and run away
Maybe make a getaway to you
I never thought I'd feel this way
Everyday's a struggle without you

Set my heart on fire
Live my life on the wire
So you can pull me through
I held it all inside
I kinda wish I'd tried
To try to tell you the truth
I had to run that mile
Couldn't cross that line
Took us step by step on the wire
Set my heart on fire
Live my life on the wire
So can you pull me through?
'Cause I cannot remember

Love-locked like a time bomb
I'm running out of time it's true
Love-locked like a time bomb
I think my fears are coming true
Yeah

I hate to say it but I'm a let down
I only learn from what I lose
I'm love-locked like a time bomb
My love-locked like a time bomb

Well I could try and run away
Maybe make a getaway to you
I never thought I'd feel this way
Everyday's a struggle without you

Set my heart on fire
Live my life on the wire
So you can pull me through
I held it all inside
I kinda wish I'd tried
To try to tell you the truth
I had to run that mile
Couldn't cross that line
Took us step by step on the wire
Set my heart on fire
Live my life on the wire
So can you pull me through?
'Cause I cannot remember
