

Skin Tension

Man Man

Will we ever find the one that we were meant to love like
We want to be loved?
Take this flight into the sun.
Or did they die in a dry hump fire years before we were born?
When all the hogs devoured the dogs like lightening after the storm.

And her lips were wet, like a rose with summer sweat
And when our eyes met, I knew I was dead.

Tiptoes on cobblestones in glass stilettos, it breaks my knees
when she
Hides her nosebleeds in my dreams as I sleep.

And I know I'll never be the man that she thinks she really needs
But it don't stop me from trying to be,
And I scream (I scream).

Oh goddamn you, miette, goddamn.
I let down my guard and you lifted this heart so now it can break again.
Oh goddamn you, miette, goddamn.
I let down my guard and there goes my heart straight out the window again.

Goddamn
Goddamn
Goddamn
God bless
