

Wake Myself Again

MAN WITH A MISSION

Waste my time I'm drowning in my head
Trying to suit the pain inside me
Finding for another way a vision to fade
Cause I know I won't come up for something better instead

Another try try to settle the vain
But it seems to not work and I'm putting it away again
Not anymore I will bear this world
Cause we all just wanna find get to know what we are one day

Tadano kiyasume no kibou hairanai
Kimishu sekai no ue I wake myself again

Break that logic, lit my bud tamashii wo odora suyouni,
Wake my will I'll never let them go take me over
Take my body take my hope, whatever be but not the soul in me,
Wake me up I'll never let them go waste me anymore

Taste my life I'm lost in here again
What did I miss I can't remember
Dazzling and just drifting in illusions we make
And we know we wont come up for something better to say

Another why that is never affirmed
But we seem to not care so we let it slide away again
Not anymore from this ruthless world
And I'm back on my feet to wake myslef again

Break that logic, lit my bud tamashii wo odora suyouni
Wake my will I'll never let them go take me over
Take my body take my hope, whatever be but not the soul in me
Wake me up, I'll never let them go waste me anymore

Back here to wake myself again
Ask me the endless question, why not ? I never had the chance to know
Don't want to choke myself again
And everything goes on and on

Break that logic, lit my bud tamashii wo odora suyouni
Wake my will I'll never let them go take me over
Take my body take my hope, whatever be but not the soul in me
Wake me up I'll never let them go take me over
Take me over, waste me anymore

Back here to wake myself again
Don't want to choke myself again
Back here to wake myself again
Back here to wake myslef again
