

Enough Love

Mandalay

Come
Like a baby to the breast
Every inch of you to test my skin

You
Deepen cracks and pour in more
Still standing at the door in tears

And I feel and do you feel
Enough love
Or do you feel, or do you feel
Enough love is too rare

Still
Leaving me untied in hands
That you tied and locked away alive

Here
I can't stand another scene
Can't face another day in here

And I feel and do you feel
Enough love
Or do you feel, or do you feel
Enough love is too rare

Do I feel, do you feel
Enough love
Or do you feel, or do you feel
Enough love is too rare

You could weather me if I turned to stone
If I turned to stone something like a statue
You could keep me hidden in your garden
Then no-one need ever know

And I feel and do you feel
Enough love
Or do you feel, or do you feel
Enough love is too rare

Do I feel, do you feel
Enough love
Or do you feel, or do you feel
Enough love is too rare
