

Losing My Mind

Mando Diao

Maybe back in June you'll find all you ever want That's what people say to me, on my crying days Step in to my dreaming space, hide behind the door Demons stole my pride when they got bored

Try to get away for good, leaving on a train Find that all that matters to me blew away with the wind Hope I find a shady yard where I can stay and find my way Sing a song in Minor break the day

I've been losing my mind for so long I've been losing my mind for so long I've been losing my mind for so long Maybe that's all I'm ever gonna do

Road to home seems far away, I try to draw a map Holding on to memories, of the paradise I will search for harmony get a glimpse of glory days Sing a song in Minor get away

I've been losing my mind for so long I've been losing my mind for so long I've been losing my mind for so long Maybe that's all I'm ever gonna do

I've been losing my mind for so long I've been losing my mind for so long I've been losing my mind for so long Maybe that's all I'm ever gonna do Maybe that's all I'm ever gonna do
