

Telephone Song

Mando Diao

Sitting with the homeless man gonna tell him I'm in jail throw my baby away and leave me to the unknown place even if I'm fall ing down I won't be restless all at once you see I ain't got ti me to sit and wonder meanwhile my lyrics don't mean a thing

It's just a telephone song for you that's all that I can do you telling me that I'm a fool, baby hold myself again I should ha ve taken you home

I can't believe its over it was too good I'm gonna proof myself for sure building my own door instead of have this pretty floo r

It's just a telephone song for you it's all that I can do you t elling me that I'm a fool, baby hold myself again I should have taken you home wont you hold myself again I should have taken you home and won't you hold myself again I should have taken yo u home
