

The Malevolence

Mando Diao

I shut the light cus it bugged my mind insane She tried to hurt in the puring summer rain I cut her angle and attacked her heart with soul It's in her skin, the lack of sin I know

She walks she talks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark
She takes your hand in the jungle by the waterfall

When I'm weak she's in the best of moods She's hanging out with all kinds of strangers with her broken shoes She's well dressed and behaves like all the rest She tends to try to unlock my cell but she'll never ever find my nest

There's no questions like it's understood

She walks she talks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she
lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark
She takes your hand in the jungle by the waterfall

She walks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark She takes your hand in the jungle by the waterfall

She's not strong! Why? I don't give a damn! Fool! She's with me , when I don't need the sex she's on her bed How can I lose her when she's all that I ever got? Behind her window there's a lover who I know I shot Can you imagine what it's like to be all alone?

She walks she talks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark
She takes your hand in the jungle by the waterfall

She walks she lives in the dark She walks she talks she lives in
the dark She walks she talks she lives in the dark She takes your hand in the jungle by the waterfall (5x)
