Sons of war

Månegarm

One stormy night As darkness arrives We gather along the shore A final rite For One-Eyes might The northstar will guide us tonight When dawn comes to life Over northern ground We leave our hearth and home Like the ravens flight In the sea of the sun We're setting sails to unknown lands

Long proud ships across the sea of Njord The prow breaks the raging waves The cold freezing winds tear the sails We live by our woven fate Through nights and days

We search our prey We have come to hunt you down And before the sunset We have slain 'em all They who passes in our way

We stand united We are the sons of war A new dawn rising In the land of the northern star We stand united Victory's at hand We are the sons of war

A new dawn comes to life Over northern ground We're setting sails to lands we know Long proud ships defies the sea of Njord As we sail for hearth and home
