

Only One

Manic Drive

The air I breathe is thinning
My senses are all gone
Everything around is spinning
Can't tell from right or wrong
Collapsing, gasping,
Falling down right on my face
These scars and wounds won't heal here
Is there a better place?
So here I'll stay in my own world
Till it's over

How can you understand?
What I have been through and done?
You can't relate to me
I am the only one
How can you understand
My thoughts and emotions?
You can't relate to me
I am the only one

I'm lost in a world that holds and controls
That hides the truth from the lies that I have been told
Try to rely on what this world can give
Gave me a hunger from a truth that didn't exist

And if I try to cover up my fears
I'll close my eyes completely
The pain might disappear
Here I'll stay in my own world
Till it's over
Watch me as I break down
And watch me disappear
Watch me as I'm crying
And watch me disappear
