

Tragedy

Manic Drive

Look at me in the eyes
Can you hear me?
Are you listening?
I wrote this note to you
I can't say it, so just please read
It's so hard for you to understand
And for me to explain
I hope this clears the mess I made

From the start I've said I loved you
And always would
But these promises have altered
I did the best I could
I know you're hurting
Your eyes the show me sure truth
And my heart, it hurts for you

And tell me
How can I live in peace
And live life happily?
How can I come to you
When life's a tragedy?

I know I made a promise like these one before
I realize things like these you just can't try to ignore
But you're all I have, and I've hurt you
The choice is yours
Just remember this one thing
That when I said to you that I loved you
That has never changed
I don't want to think that I'll lose you
Over one mistake
I hope you'll try to find a place for me in your heart
A place where maybe I can stay

Don't you on, don't you walk away from me
Don't you on, don't you walk away from me
Cause you're everything I ever need
