

The Long Goodbye

Manic Street Preachers

It started with a long goodbye
It finished with a blink of an eye
We could have dreams we could have lied
But times just passed us by

But all the love that you showed
Never had a chance to grow, never grow
Just in case you didn't know the love that you showed Never had a chance to grow, never grow, it never

It started with a long goodbye
Now it's fading like a bleached out sky
50/50 came no reason why
It ended like a toss of a coin

But all the love that you lost
It never really stoped, never stoped
Just in case you fail to watch the love that you lost
It never really stoped, never stoped, it never