The Long Goodbye

Manic Street Preachers

It started with a long goodbye
It finished with a blink of an eye
We could have dreams we could have lied
But times just passed us by

But all the love that you showed Never had a chance to grow, never grow Just in case you didn't know the love that you showed Never had a chance to grow, never grow, it never

It started with a long goodbye Now it's fading like a bleached out sky 50/50 came no reason why It ended like a toss of a coin

But all the love that you lost
It never realy stoped, never stoped
Just in case you fail to watch the love that you lost
It never realy stoped, never stoped, it never