

Beyond

Mankind Is Obsolete

Run from me
Madness take me
Find the pieces,
Heal the cracks,
Hold the edges back,
I am there,
The haunted stare,
I exist here, all of me,
Do you care?
Never tell me what I am
Rots away
You can't believe
Why can't you see?
Why can't you hear?
Why can't you feel?
Fight your way to me
There is so much you cannot see
There is so much I want to know
Beyond these words
Beyond this touch
Beyond this world
Come to me here,
Learn from my stare
Stop and beware
The voices come and they don't share
They rip apart my life until I learn there is no one in there

Can you save me from me?

Why can't you see?
Why can't you hear?
Why can't I feel?
Fight your way to me
There is no time
Stuck in this place
Burn me away or light my fallen way
Catching my breath,
Fighting the pain,
Feeling the contours of your face
Tearing the colors that assault me in my dreams
You meet me there
And walk away
Help me to find
Your light, your touch
Upon my face
Beyond these words,
Beyond this touch,
Beyond this world,
I wait in here

What we lock away
The things we hold dear
All that I've betrayed
To let you come so near
But I still feel saved
When hope falls away
Because of dreams of here

This place
Burn me away or light my fallen way

There is so much you cannot see
There is so much I want to know
Beyond these words
Beyond this touch
Beyond this world
Come to me here,
Learn from my stare
Stop and beware
The voices come and they don't share
They rip apart my life until I learn there is no one in there
