

Everyday

Mankind Is Obsolete

Nothing rests here in the dark
In illusion, serving time
Beating down our dreams with fear
Locked ourselves up in self-control

Everyday brings us closer here
Everyday brings us closer here
Everyday brings us closer here
Everyday brings us closer to waste

What we get for all we do,
Is this liberty for you?
Broken down,
In God we trust,
Infect the weak,
Condemn the just
With all that you grow

What is left to believe?
When people have let their silence take all their control
While drifting in hate
And drifting in fear
And left with forgotten dreams
That all have disappeared

Everyday brings us closer here
Everyday brings us closer here
Everyday brings us closer here
Everyday brings us closer to waste
