An Open Letter To The Lyrical Trainspotter

Mansun

Since the dawn of time I've rolled across the earth Spinning in the dust

Long before your birth Eatin' tar and gasoline Every light I see is green Open pipes, my machine's triple-plated chrome

Spirit of the wheel Wheels of fire burn the night Ride across the sky Wheels of fire burning bright We live to ride

Motors running Now you're gonna learn Waiting on the line Make your tires burn Fast, faster, faster, faster Speeding always kills Nothing else takes us to get these thrills

Spirit of the wheel Wheels of fire burn the night Ride across the sky Wheels of fire burning bright We live to ride

Blood and thunder on the road My heart is pounding My blood is nitroglycerin I'm fire Burning, burning, burning Ready to explode Don't want nothing left of me to scrape off the road

Spirit of the wheel Wheels of fire burn the night Ride across the sky Wheels of fire burning bright

We live to ride Clouds of smoke Tires screaming Fire in my hair Blown into a thousand pieces Scattered everywhere Fast, burn, burning, faster want to take a ride Spirit of the wheel Wheels of fires ride

Spirit of the wheel Wheels of fire burn the night Ride across the sky Wheels of fire burning bright We live to ride
