Give Me a Reason

Marc Anthony

I should have told you
I should have found a way
I should have worked a little harder just to show you love

If I'd have given
A little more of my time
Maybe I could have saved the best thing that I ever had

Now I am faced with lonely nights
And I can't bear to live my life
Knowing that I might be losing you

R: Give me a reason to stay
   Because I want to
   Baby, just give me a sign that let's me know you really care
   Show me a better way that
   I can love you
   Baby, I'll do my best to make a change
   Just give me a reason

I wanna please you
I wanna understand
I wanna know that you still want me when I touch your hand

I've got a feeling
That you're just scared to try
Girl, I promise you this time that I won't let you down

'Cause I can't take these lonely nights
And I can't bear to live my life
Knowing that I might be losing you
