I Swear

Marc Anthony

I have never seen an angel standing oh so close to me I have never touched someone and felt so electricity I am taken over by the endless possibilities And I'm waiting for the day you say that you belong to me I swear No one will ever love you better I swear We could be so good together R: I never wanted anyone the way I want you (baby) I never met someone who gives me everything you do I swear If I'm with you there's no other I swear There will never be another Cause of you there are more reasond to be thatnkful everday Cause of you I'm reminded of the chances I should take It't the comfort of your warm embrace that shelters all the rai n And there's nothing I wouldn't give for you to feel the same I swear No one will ever love you better I swear We could be so good together R: Somewhere, Somehow you appeared

And everything's so different now When your around The promise of all we could be Is what keeps me going now I'm never down
