

Love Is All

Marc Anthony

When you hold me like this so many memories fill my eyes the first time we kissed the times we nearly said good-bye but still here we are tested and tried and still true and stronger than we ever knew

R: Love is all the laughter and the tears that fall the mundane and the magical
love is all
all is love
the careless word, the healing touch the getting and the giving of
all is love

There's a me you've always known the me that's a stranger still the you that feels like home and the you that never will but still here we lie tender and trusting and true with everything that we've been through

R:

All the glory
all the pain
all the passion that turns to ashes
only to rise again

R:
