

Remember Me

Marc Anthony

It's not enough to say I've loved and lost just a thought to know I had it all times can change
but love will not grow old turn the page turn down this bed alone

Do you still remember me how could you forget you're everything I need I'm out here on the ledge there's no words for me to say and too much to regret you're where I should be
do you remember when I let you go
what was I thinking of I'll never know what it's like to love
but there's no way
how can I replace love so strong
when I can't forget your face

We used to dance
I used to sing
do you remember
you and me
'cause if I could hold your hand
I'd be a king
'cause I remember
everything
