That's Okay

Marc Anthony

I remember how it used to be When you said you were in love with me Now I'm all alone Sitting by the phone There's that memory Hangin' over me Oh, you were something And now we're nothing I still can't believe You're leaving me In the middle of what used to be Our thing That's okay And I still don't see A reason for you killing me The way you did That day That's okay I can't shake all that you promised me Can't believe I let it conquer me Now you're on your way To that better day And I'm here at home Sitting all alone Oh, you were something

And, that's why we're nothing
