Poppies

Long long ago in China
I`m told
To England was traded
some tea
And so sealed the fate
In pieces of eight
All England and all of the world
Yeah...poppies

When soon his majesty
sent soldiers and thieves
To India searching for gold Instead from the ground
Some magic they found Something far better I`mtold
Yeah...poppies
Yeah...poppies

And nlow the story told from days of our own
When gossamer doggies ran ran
They`d patiently wait
With pieces of eight
So everybody could smile
one more time
Yeah...poppies
Yeah...poppies
