Wave Motion Gun

Marcy Playground

Backstage behind the curtain there's an There's an armchair with a secret engine and you You climb in and get naked watching Star Blazers

Wish you had their amenities
To fend off your enemies
In one big blast from your wave motion gun

And so you reach down to that secret panel and there's a There's a whole raft of little buttons and you You pick one and hope it takes you to Mars

Soon there'll be no pain again You'll feel like yourself again When you shoot all your heroin In one big blast from your wave motion gun

And so downstairs behind the oven there's a There's a dark hole where, where the gas comes in You know you should, you should climb in It'll get you there so much faster

Soon there'll be no pain again
You'll feel like yourself again
When you shoot all your heroin
In one big blast from
In one big shot from
In one big blast from
In one big shot
>From your wave motion gun
