Phantasm

Marduk

Welcome to your funeral Your life has just begun Lie in the hearse Into the morgue Where the dead unite as one

Into the shrine you fall Hear the dead, they call Angel of the damned Walks with me, hand in hand

Fly through the night which has no end Into the land where you're condemned Messiah from the grave Lead the corpse from hell Behold the morbid saint Come forth from whence you fell

As you walk through the valley of death Phantasia waits for your last breath The demons stride with the Devil's bride Rest in peace

Phantom, spread your wings As the black coven sings Eyes which mesmerize From the crypts they rise
