

Hardly Hurts At All

Maria Arredondo

It's my first summer since you told me that we're over.
It's my first summer since you went away.
But don't go thinking there's a chip upon my shoulder.
Cos I assure you everythings O.K.
As I'm sittin' on top of the world.

Cos I'm just going crazy,
I'm just climbing up the wall.
I just cry myself to sleep at night,
'wondering why you never call.

You were only all I dreamed of,
and the only one I want.
So why should I feel bad about it,
no it hardly hurts at all.

Each time I see you I get shivers and my hand shake.
And everytime I feel like such a fool.
But don't you worry if I stumble and my voice breaks.
Cos I assure you everything is cool,
as I'm sittin' on top of the world.

Cos I'm just going crazy,
I'm just climbing up the wall.
I just cry myself to sleep at night,
'wondering why you never called.

You were only all i dreamed of,
and the only one I want.
So why should i feel bad about it,
no it hardly hurts at all.

Maybe someday you will know what i mean.
Yeah, you may even fall apart.
Maybe you'll know how it feels when someone tears it apart, apart.

I'm just going crazy,
I'm just climbing up the wall.
I just cry myself to sleep at night,
'wondering why you never call.

You were only all I dreamed of,
and the only one I want.
So why should i feel bad about it,
no it hardly hurts at all.

I'm just climbing up the wall.
I just cry myself to sleep at night,
'wondering why you never call.

You were only all I dreamed of,
and the only one I want.
So why should i feel bad about it,
no it hardly hurts at all.
