

Save You

Mária Čírová

You are a hero , but you're lost let go of the past the die is not castwait for the morning a new sun will rise I only pray that you will survive life is perfect but you're blind don't hold back love open your eyes you're one in a million cause you're one in a million

If i can save you overnight then I must save you you'll be alright

Let's stop pretending it's been much too long I will catch you because I am strong teras of the past won't push me away let's move on love I'm here to stay
cause you're one in a million

If ... If I can save you overnight I know (that) I'll save you step into the light
