

My Lonely Sad Eyes

Maria McKee

Fill me my cup
and I'll drink your sparkling wine pretending everything is fine
till I see your sad eyes

Throw me a kiss
across a crowded room
some sunny windswept
afternoon
there's none too soon for me to miss
my sad eyes
woh oh ou, not bad
eyes
a glad eyes, but you my sad eyes

Fortunate and free
and there go you and I
between the other sky
but who are you and I
to wonder why we do so
my sad eyes
- lonely

Oh what a story
come on in all it's glory
this song that I sing in
everything
for you my sad eyes

You'd better fill me my cup
and I'll drink your
sparkling wine
woh oh ou, not bad eyes
lonely sad eyes

(Transcribed from Maria McKee singing
on The Van Morrison Songbook, 1997) Fill me my cup
and I'll
drink your sparkling wine

my sad eyes
oh, not bad eyes

but
glad eyes, you my sad eyes

between
the other sky
my sad eyes, yeah yeah

You fill me my cup
oh, not bad
eyes
but glad eyes, it's you that I [sa.....ile ?!]
ah, sad - lord, sad eyes - sad eyes
