

Lover Let Me In

Maria Mena

Over the years I've made an effort to,
Change my position, change my point of view.
I have a past that I dared be disloyal to.

But as the hurricane of change evolved
Created a mess 'round every problem solved.
Thought not to build new foundations, ripped the old ones out.

Lover let me in.
I belong under your skin.
I fall down
Catch me now.

We made it to hell and back, our hearts intact.
But the faith I had gained you seemed to lack.
You had seen part of me you clearly couldn't shake.

But I am a changed woman, a different girl
I wanna show you around this brand new world
But don't you dare treat me according to where I've been.

Lover let me in.
I belong under your skin.
I fall down
Catch me now.
