

You're Scaring Me

Maria Mena

Ungrateful heart,
No one's taught you how to love
And I wouldn't know where to start
Your big blue eyes have seen all of me
Now I can't deceive, even with the more persuasive little lies

You're scaring me, I wanna go home
I can't believe I'm saying this but leave me alone
You know too much I need to get away
I'm doing you a favour, maybe you'll thank me one day

What a coward I am
All my life's been spent inside here
You're my one chance to take a stand
But I couldn't take the pain
If I decided to let you in
I risked someone meeting me again

It's scaring me, I wanna go home
I can't believe I am saying this but leave me alone
You know too much I need to get away
I'm doing you a favour, maybe you'll thank me one day

You're scaring me, I wanna go home
I can't believe I am saying this but leave me alone
You know too much I need to get away
I'm doing you a favour, maybe you'll thank me one day

One day
One day
