

A Lullaby for You

Maria Taylor

All the stars, the moon, the sky
Flowered fields and butterflies
Well it's not enough for you
Love of mine

All the sunsets heading west
All the cities dressed their best
Well it's not enough for you
Love of mine

And once
I had tried
To feel something
Oh I tried
And then you opened my eyes
And I feel everything

Of all the breath, the space, and time
Dream filled days and nights combined
Well it's not enough for you
Love of mine

Fairy tales, sweet surprise
Morning songs and lullabies
Well they're not enough for you
Love of mine

And once
I had tried
To feel something
Oh I tried
Then you opened my eyes
And I feel everything
You are everything
