

Masterplan

Maria Taylor

How do you emancipate?
Could you harver the silence change?
Could he, keep pushing through?

How do you emancipate?
Will she, be there if you walk away?
Would you, would you feel the same?

The fear, the smell sets high
In comparison you cover eyes
You pray for these thoughts to die

Destroy, this is your technique
Can you take it back?
Can you live with that?

Do you have a master plan?
Can the heart crumble while devotion stands?
And what makes a better me?

The rear is how let's go
In comparison with tower eyes
You turn and you get back home

Destroy, this is your technique
But can you take it back?
And can you live with that?

How do you emancipate?
Could you harver the silence change?
Could you keep pushing through?

And how do you emancipate?
Will she be there if you walk away?
Would you, would you feel the same?

Do you have a master plan?
Can the heart crumble while devotion stands?
And what makes a better man?

And who has a master plan?
You deserve a love that will transcend
You do, my friend
