Marié Digby

Spotlight shining brightly on my face
I can't see a thing and yet i feel you looking my way

Empty stage
With nothing but this girl
Who's singing this simple melody
And wearing her heart on her sleeve

And right now
I have you
For a moment i can tell i've got you
Cause your lips don't move
And something is happening
Cause your eyes tell me the truth
I've put a spell over you

Beauty emanates from every word that you say
And captured the deepest thoughts in the purest and simplest of ways
But you see
I'm not that graceful
Like you
Nor am i as eloquent
But just a simple melody

Can change the way that you see me

And right now
I have you
For a moment i can tell i've got you
Cause your lips don't move
And something is happening
Cause your eyes tell me the truth
I've put a spell over you

And all my life i've stumbled
But up here i am just perfect
Perfect as i'll ever be

I have you
For a moment i can tell i've got you
Cause your lips don't move
And something is happening
Cause your eyes tell me the truth
I've put a spell over you
