Don't Walk Away

Her voice, I can still hear it all in my head I can still hear the way that she said When she said she's leaving Her tears, I can still feel em all in my hands I can still see em from where I stand In her pain, im drowning But i, only have myself to blame Dont tell me that its too late I think about you night and day

Yes I hurt you, I know Yeah I made my mistakes Next time I wont let pride in the way I will stand by your side and I'll stand till its right There's no way it should end this way Just dont walk away

You're on the other side of town I wonder what you're thinking now I never meant to break you down I'm sorry now One more day Without you by my side I swear its gonna make me die I need you to turn around, oh baby

Yes I hurt you, I know Yeah I made my mistakes Next time I wont let pride in the way I will stand by your side and I'll stand till its right There's no way it should end this way Just don't walk away Just don't walk away Ooh don't walk away girl

Every morning when I arise It's a nightmare cause baby you're not there No loving when I get home I'm tired of praying alone Baby please Come back I know

Yeah I hurt you, I know Yes I made my mistakes Next time I wont let pride in the way I will stand by your side and I'll stand till its right There's no way it should end this way Just dont walk away

Yes I hurt you, I know Yeah I made my mistakes Next time I wont let pride in the way I will stand by your side and I'll stand till its right There's no way it should end this way Just don't walk away
