

Don't You

Marion Raven

My smile I will fake for you
My dreams I'll forsake you
Truth is there to be told
We're not here just to grow old
I'd give up all that I wanna be for you

And I see what's broken
And I hear what's spoken
Words are flying out, don't forget to shout
That you love me too

I will wait for you
I'll admit my mistakes for you
Dreams are made to be real
And this is all that I feel
Yeah I feel it deep down to my bones

And I see what's broken
And I hear what's spoken
Words are flying out, don't forget to shout
That you love me too

Maybe I should go, just to let you know
That you love me too
Well, don't you?

Look at my eyes can't you see that I'm still crying?
Look at my hands can't you see that I'm still trying?
Look at my feet can't you see that I'm not walking away
