In Spite Of Me

Marion Raven

God, it was late, I was drunk You saw me The one by my side wasn't you I'm sorry

And I knew right then That I lost you there But you took me in

In spite of me You made me feel invited Nobody else That is what I decided

Selfish and dumb, stupid and young Yeah, that's me But from all of the wrongs, you make it right And forgive me

It's been said before
But I'll try once more
You are the one

God, it was late
I was drunk
You saw me
The one by my side
He wasn't you
(You made me feel invited)
I'm sorry

Nobody else That is what I decided

In spite of me, you're here You made me feel invited Nobody else That is what I decided

In spite of me, you're here
In spite of me
