

Strangers

Marion

And now you've faced it, ran away
Tried it all and deserved it
And in the place you love
Is the places that I hate to go

Lost in music
That can send you to sleep
She's been lonely
Like you wouldn't believe

Wrapped up the games to play
As she drinks all day
But she's fine, she's fine
She's fine, she's fine

You're no stranger to all of us here
You are not there anymore
And then you wonder
Why all of your days are blue

And now she spends the weekends
Making her minds bend and reveal all
And now the drunken love
Is the only love that she knows

Lost in a time warp
More surreal than Eddie
She's more lonely
Than you could have believed

Sat in the night and day
As she's drinking again
But she's fine, she's mine
She's mine, she's mine

You're no stranger to all of us here
You are not there anymore
And then you wonder
Why all of your days are blue

I'm turning away now
I feel it, it's coming
But you know we need each other
More than we need ourselves

She's turning away now
Just cruising, extremely boring
But you know we need each other
More than we need ourselves

You're no stranger to all of us here
Because you know we need each other
More than we need ourselves

You're no stranger to all of us here
Because you know we need each other
More than we need ourselves

You're no stranger and there's none of it here
Because you know we need each other
More than we need ourselves

You're no stranger and there's none of it here
Because you know we need each other
More than we need ourselves
