

Katie I Know

Marissa Nadler

People leaving faster than they come
In my life I remember none
Better than you in the woods
In my second neighborhood

So strange to be in that backyard
Again, same pictures on the walls
It's hard to know
When to let go

'Cause, I can't bury this heart of mine
And I can't bury all the times
They say you'll come back to me
But I won't count on anything

World grows smaller down here
And I know we're not the same
Katie I know
When to walk away
Cause Katie I know
When to walk away

So many fairweather friends
Problem is when the weather ends
And I know I'll always be this way
Take a number
So many down today

Cause I can't bury this heart of mine
And I can't bury all the times
They say you'll come back to me
But I won't count on anything

World grows smaller down here
And I know we're not the same
Katie I know
When to walk away
Cause Katie I know
When to walk away
