

Between The Lines

Marit Bergman

Shades are down and lights are out Only the sound of distant sirens
Now that you're sleeping by my side
I can reveal what I've been hiding Oh my Oh oh my

Hey, look, I'm sorry for my ways Well it's just selfpreservation 'cause I break easily these days that's why I say the things I say
oh my won't you read between the lines
oh my
won't you read between the lines says that I'm already hopelessly devoted losing ground I'm on decline And I tried so hard but oh you mowed me down
mowed me down
mowed me down

If I trust you with my fears Will you still think of me tomorrow Is there a chance you'd let me down Is there a gun here I can borrow

Oh my
You don't know how much I lie
Oh my
Won't you read between the lines
Says that I'm Already hopelessly devoted Losing ground
I'm on decline
There's no hope for me
No rescue within sight
Already hopelessly devoted
I'm surprised I'm still alive
And I tried so hard but oh,
You mowed me down
