

Coming Home

Marit Larsen

I wonder if you know when you kiss me like that
You ruin me for anyone else
I wonder if you know that you've got me like that
You turn me back into myself

Do you know it's never been better
It's never been better
Do you know it's never been better
Than you

Are you thinking what I keep thinking
The most magical thing that I've known
One look in your eyes, I'm sinking
And it feels like coming home
Yeah, it feels like coming home

Somehow I knew there'd be a reason to live
Through all of the maybe's and if's
That the broken dreams, hopes, hearts, promises
Would lead to a moment like this

Do you know it's never been clearer
It's never been clearer
Do you know it's never been clearer
Than with you

Are you thinking what I keep thinking
The most magical thing that I've known
One look in your eyes, I'm sinking
And it feels like coming home

Are you dreaming like I keep dreaming
It's so bittersweet knowing alone
Are you falling like I've been falling
'Cos it feels like coming home
Yeah, it feels like coming home
Yeah, it feels like coming home

Do you know it's never been easier
It's never been easier
Do you know it's never been easier
Than with you

Are you thinking what I keep thinking
The most magical thing that I've known
One look in your eyes, I'm sinking
And it feels like coming home

Are you dreaming like I keep dreaming
It's so bittersweet knowing alone
Are you falling like I've been falling
'Cos it feels like coming home

Are you thinking what I keep thinking
Am I giving in on my own
Are you falling like I've been falling
'Cos it feels like coming home

Yeah, it feels like coming home
Yeah, it feels just like, just like
Yeah, it feels like coming home
